

Instructions for filing for a zoning permit

The following permit application must be filed with the Township prior to any construction activity for any of the following residential improvements.

- Additions
- Addition to a porch
- Decks
- Elevated patios
- Exterior wood burning appliances
- Fences (new and replacements)
- Garage construction (attached and detached)
- Lean-to's
- Metal carports
- Moving of a structure on a lot
- Pole Barns
- Retaining walls (new or replacement)
- Sheds
- Swimming pools – in ground or above ground (except inflatable pools less than 24 inches deep)
- Temporary buildings used during construction
- Wind energy towers

Zoning approval is the first step required for certain types of improvements and construction on residential parcels. Farm buildings are exempt from building permits, but must still meet zoning requirements for the location of new structures, corrals, etc.

In order to obtain zoning approval, the zoning application must be filled out in all areas applicable to your project. Include a copy of your survey/site plan with a set of the proposed construction drawings. The site plan must include ALL dimensions between structures including distances from property lines. Make sure your name and address appears clearly on submitted drawings. Where a request is for an addition or a structure (which also requires a building permit), the site plan must clearly identify all dimensions of the structure as measured from the exterior, including height. Driveways, septic system locations must be indicated on the site plan.

Inspections: The zoning administrator will perform a site inspection within 1 business day after you call. The location of the proposed structure or improvement must be physically staked to allow the inspector to verify the location with your drawing. You will be notified in person, by telephone, and/or by U.S. Mail of the approval or denial of the project. The zoning inspector may also affix a notice of approval or denial at the premises in a conspicuous place. If you are unsure if your project was inspected or approved, please call the zoning and codes department at 989-792-7596 extension 17.

The application fee for residential zoning applications is $50.00 and must be paid before an on-site inspection is completed and approved.

Failure to obtain the zoning permit and approval before a project is started could result in requiring you to remove the structure completely or relocate any improvement that is in violation of the zoning ordinance. Acquiring the zoning permit and subsequent approval ensures that your proposed project meets the Township's ordinances and allows us to provide you with all the information you will need to progress your project.

Zoning and Codes Department – 792-7596 ext 17.

Inspections will be made within 24 hours of notification, Monday thru Friday, 8 am – 2 pm.
